Shred Secure: International Identity Theft Prevention Month

October's International Identity Theft Prevention Month, led by the International Association of Financial Crimes Investigators (IAFCI) and global cybersecurity partners, spotlights the fight against identity theft and data breaches. Emphasizing secure disposal, this initiative promotes shredding as a frontline defense. Intimus shredders shine—precision-engineered machines that transform vulnerable papers and media into irretrievable fragments, directly supporting the month's mission to "shred the risk" of fraud. This document explores the month's focus, identity theft dangers, prevention tactics, and how Intimus empowers proactive protection.

This global campaign educates on scams, recovery, and compliance. With millions affected yearly—costing billions—focus areas include cross-border fraud and improper data handling. Shredding emerges as an accessible, immediate tactic to prevent "dumpster diving" and opportunistic theft.

Thieves exploit discarded docs like bills or IDs to commit fraud, drain accounts, and erode credit. Victims endure financial and emotional strain. Physical security gaps persist despite digital advances, making October's awareness vital for proactive habits.

Since 1954, Intimus offers trusted, high-performance shredders for homes, offices, military, government, and industrial applications. Routine shredding of paper, cards, and media creates a robust barrier, complementing passwords and monitoring.

International Identity Theft Prevention Month urges action: Shred to safeguard. Intimus turns awareness into armor with durable, compliant tools.
